CHAPTER 136

OF BIRDS

(As amended.)

Section 1. Every person who shall take, kill, destroy, buy, sell or offer for sale, or have in his possession any wild bird, or birds, including grebes, loons, gulls, terns, bitterns, herons, cranes, doves, woodpeckers, nighthawks, meadowlarks, commonly called 'marsh quail' and blue jays at any season of the year, except as hereinafter provided shall be fined not exceeding twenty dollars for each of such birds. (See Chapter 1255.)

Sec. 2. Every person who shall pursue with intent to kill any wild bird, except as hereinafter provided, shall be fined twenty dollars for each offence.

Sec. 3. Every person who shall wilfully disturb or destroy the nest or eggs of any wild bird, except as hereinafter provided, shall be fined twenty dollars for each offence.

Sec. 4. Every person who shall take, kill, or pursue with intent to kill, any of the anatidæ, commonly known as 'water fowl,' including any brant, wild duck or wild goose between the fifteenth day of February and the first day of October next following, any rail, black-breasted plover, golden plover, Wilson snipe, greater yellowlegs, or lesser yellowlegs, between the thirtieth day of November and the fifteenth day of August following, ruffed grouse, commonly called 'partridge,' quail, commonly called 'bob white,' woodcock or pheasant between the thirty-first day of December and the first day of November following, shall be fined not exceeding twenty dollars for each offence; and whoever shall buy, sell or offer for sale at any time of the year or have in his possession any rail, black-breasted plover, golden plover, Wilson snipe, greater or lesser yellowlegs, ruffed grouse, quail or woodcock during the time that they are herein protected by law, whenever or wherever killed shall be fined not exceeding twenty dollars for each such bird. (See Chapter 1255.)

Sec. 5. Sections 1 and 2 of this chapter shall not apply to the shooting of Anatidæ, including brant, wild ducks and wild geese from the first day of October to the fifteenth day of February next following, inclusive; woodcock from the first day of November to the thirty-first day of December, inclusive; rails, black-breasted and golden plover, Wilson snipe, commonly called 'Jack Snipe,' greater and lesser yellowlegs from the fifteenth day of August to the thirtieth day of November, inclusive; ruffed grouse, commonly called 'partridge,' quail, commonly called 'bob white,' and pheasant, from the first day of November to the thirty-first day of December, inclusive: Provided, however, that this section shall not be construed as affecting the close season for wood duck as provided for in Section 8 of this chapter. (See Chapter 1255.)

Sec. 6. Whoever sells, or offers for sale or has in his possession with intent to sell, any ruffed grouse, commonly called partridge, quail, or any woodcock, whenever or wherever such bird may be taken or killed, shall be punished by a fine of twenty dollars for each bird, one-half thereof to the use of the complainant and one-half thereof to the use of the state.

Sec. 7. Sections 1, 2, and 3 of this chapter shall not apply to the killing of, or the destruction of the nests or eggs of English sparrows, English starlings, hawks (except fish hawks), owls and crows, and crow-blackbirds, at any season of the year, by any person on his own land. (See Chapter 1385.)

Sec. 8. Every person who shall take, kill or pursue with intent to kill, destroy, sell, buy, or offer for sale, or have in his possession any wood duck, swan, or any of the Limicolæ, commonly known as shore, marsh or beach birds, including curlew, dowitchers, dodwits, knots, phalaropes, plover, sandpipers, snipe, stilts, surf birds, turnstones and willett, before the first day of September nineteen hundred and eighteen, or any Hungarian partridge before the first day of November, nineteen hundred and twenty, shall for each offence be fined not exceeding twenty dollars: Provided, that the words Hungarian partridge shall not be construed to apply to the birds commonly called partridge or ruffed grouse; and provided, further, that this section shall not be construed as affecting the close season for woodcock, black-breasted plover, golden plover, Wilson snipe, greater yellowlegs or lesser yellowlegs as already provided for in Section 4 of this chapter. (See Chapter 1255.)

. Sec. 9. Every person who shall carry or send beyond the limits of this state at any time any wild duck, wild swan, wild goose, rail, any of the Limicolæ or shore, marsh, or beach birds, any woodcock, quail, commonly called 'bob white,' or ruffed grouse, commonly called 'partridge,' shall be fined not exceeding twenty dollars for each of said birds. (See Chapter 1255.)

Sec. 10. Every person who shall at any time of the year, take, kill or destroy any quail or partridge by means of any trap, snare, net or spring, or who shall construct, erect, set, repair, maintain or tend any trap, snare, net or spring, for the purpose of taking, killing or destroying any quail or partridge, or who shall shoot any water fowl by means or by use of any battery, swivel, punt, or pivot gun, or who shall take, kill, or pursue with intent to kill any migratory game or insectivorous birds between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise, shall be fined for each offence not exceeding twenty dollars. (See Chapter 1255.)

Sec. 11. Possession by any person of any bird during the time when the taking, killing or destruction of such bird is prohibited by this chapter, shall be evidence before any court of competent jurisdiction that such bird was taken, killed or destroyed in violation of this chapter.

Sec. 12. Every person who shall wilfully maim, shoot, or otherwise kill any antwerp or homing-pigeon, commonly called and known by the name of "carrier-pigeon," either while in flight or at rest, shall be fined for each offence not exceeding twenty dollars.

Sec. 13. Every person who shall wilfully entrap, catch or detain any antwerp or homing-pigeon, commonly called and known by the name of "carrier-pigeon," shall be fined for each offence not exceeding twenty dollars: Provided, however, that such pigeon shall at the time have the name of the owner stamped upon its wing or tail, or have a band with the owner's name, initial or number on its leg.

Sec. 14. Every person who shall, between the fifteenth day of December and the fifteenth day of October next following, shoot at or kill any bird upon land not owned or occupied by himself, and without permission of the owner or occupant thereof, shall forfeit and pay to the owner or occupant thereof five dollars for the first offence and ten dollars for every subsequent offence, in addition to the damages sustained. (See Chapter 581.)

Sec. 15. Any person above the age of fifteen years, having a certificate from the curator of the museum of zoology of Brown University, the president of the Rhode Island College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, or from any incorporated society of natural history or college in the state, to the effect that said person is engaged in the scientific study of ornithology or is making collections in the interest of or for said institutions, or any one of them, may take the nest and eggs of, or at any season of the year may take or kill, any undomesticated birds, except those named in sections four and five.

Sec. 16. Every person who shall at any time of the year shoot, kill, or pursue with intent to shoot or kill, any water-fowl from, by means of, or by the use of, any sailboat, motor-boat, or launch, or any boat propelled by steam, gasoline, kerosene, or naphtha, or from, by means of, or by the use of any boat except what is commonly known as a skiff and propelled by oars, shall be punished by a fine of twenty dollars for each and every offence. (See Chapter 1043.)

Sec. 17. Repealed.

Sec. 18. Repealed

Sec. 19. All fines recovered by virtue of this chapter shall enure one-half thereof to the use of the state and one-half thereof to the use of the complainant, and all prosecutions therefor shall be commenced within ninety days after the commission of the offence and not afterwards.

Sec. 20. There shall be five commissioners of birds, who shall serve without compensation. At the January session of the general assembly in the year A. D. nineteen hundred eleven, and in each third year thereafter, the governor, with the advice and consent of the senate, shall appoint five persons to be commissioners of birds to succeed the commissioners then in office; and the persons so appointed shall hold their offices until the first day of February in the third year after their appointment. Any vacancy which may occur in said offices when the senate is not in session shall be filled by the governor until the next session thereof, when he shall, with the advice and consent of the senate, appoint some persons to fill such vacancy for the remainder of the term.

Sec. 21. The commissioners of birds shall protect wild birds and wild animals throughout the state, and shall prosecute every person who shall violate any of the laws of this state relating to wild birds or wild animals, and the setting or attendance of snares and traps. Whenever complaint is made by said commissioners, or either of them, or by their deputies, of any violation of any of the laws of this state relating to wild birds or wild animals, or relating to the setting or attendance of snares and traps, they shall not be required either by themselves or by their deputies, to furnish surety for costs or be liable for costs on such complaint. (See Chapters 1385, 1535.)

Sec. 22. Said commissioners in their discretion may appoint any number of deputies, and shall issue commissions under their hands to said deputies, empowering them to execute the duties of such office, and shall record the names of said deputies with the secretary of state. It shall be the duty of the commissioners of birds and their deputies to enforce all of the laws of this state relating to wild birds and wild animals, and the setting or attendance of snares or traps for wild birds or wild animals, and they shall have the power to execute all warrants and search warrants issued for the violation of the laws of this state with reference to wild birds or wild animals, and the setting or attending of snares or traps for wild birds or wild animals, and they shall have the power to arrest without warrant any person whom they find violating such laws; Provided, that any person so arrested without warrant shall not be detained longer than twenty-four hours. (See Chapters 1385, 1535.)

Sec. 23. The commissioners of birds and their deputies shall have power to make search where they have reason to believe that wild birds or wild animals or any parts thereof, are possessed in violation of law and without search warrant to examine the contents of any boat, car, wagon or other vehicle, box, locker, basket, crate, game bag, or other package, or the contents of any building other than a dwelling house, to ascertain whether any of the provisions of the laws of this state relating to the protection of wild birds or wild animals have been or are being violated, and to use such force as may be necessary for the purpose of such examination and inspection; and with a search warrant to search and examine the contents of any building or dwelling house; seize all wild birds or wild animals, or any parts thereof, possessed in violation of the law, or showing evidence of illegal taking, and hold the same subject to the order of the court issuing such search warrant. If any such wild bird or wild animals shall be seized without search warrant under the provisions of this section, the same procedure shall be pursued as is hereinafter in this chapter provided for the forfeiture of wild birds and animals taken under a search warrant. (See Chapter 1385.)

Sec. 24. Whenever complaint is made on oath to any magistrate authorized to issue warrants in criminal cases, that the complainant believes and has reasonable cause to believe that wild birds or wild animals are being possessed contrary to law, or that the laws in relation to wild birds or wild animals have been or are being violated in any building or place, such magistrate, if satisfied that there is reasonable cause for such belief, shall issue a search warrant authorizing any officer competent to serve a warrant, to search such place or building; but no search shall be made after sunset, unless specially authorized by the magistrate upon satisfactory cause shown; and all such wild birds or wild animals shall be taken and be kept by such officer in some proper place of security until they can be proceeded against in the manner hereinafter provided; and the officer shall summon the owner or keeper, if any be named in the complaint, if to be found by him, and the warrant shall be returned by said officer with his doings thereon, as soon as may be, to the district court having jurisdiction of the same in the district where such wild birds or wild animals shall have been seized.

If the owner or keeper be not named in the warrant or not found, the court shall order a notice of such seizure to be given by posting up written notices in at least three public places in the town or city, one of which shall be on the building or near the place, where the seizure was made and such other notice shall be given as the court shall deem to be necessary.

All wild birds and wild animals seized under this chapter, which were possessed or kept in violation of law, shall be forfeited to the state, and the officer making such seizure, or an officer designated by the court for the purpose, shall forthwith proceed to prosecute for the forfeiture thereof in the manner provided by law.

If the cause of forfeiture be proved, the court before which the complaint or information shall be tried shall enter sentence of forfeiture to the state against said wild birds or wild animals; and any person aggrieved by such sentence may appeal therefrom to the superior court according to the provisions relating to criminal appeals from district courts. If the cause of forfeiture be not proved, then all such seized wild birds or wild animals shall be forthwith restored to the proper owner thereof or to the place from which they were taken by the officer who seized the same.

Upon entry of sentence of forfeiture against such wild birds or wild animals, if no appeal be then taken or no recognizance given as prescribed in other criminal cases, the court shall forthwith issue a warrant to the officer, commanding him forthwith to destroy or to distribute to public hospitals, or if alive, to liberate said wild birds or wild animals; and every such officer shall execute said warrant and shall return the same, with his doings thereon, to the court, within such time as the court shall direct. In case of final judgment for the state on appeal, the court entering such final judgment shall issue the like warrant, as aforesaid, for the destruction or liberation of the wild birds or wild animals seized.

There shall be allowed and paid to the officer who shall make the same for every seizure made under the foregoing provisions, the sum of five dollars, with two dollars additional for every day after the first that such officer shall be necessarily employed in causing the wild birds or wild animals seized to be condemned and ten cents for every mile that he shall necessarily travel therein, together with such reasonable sum as the court may deem just for necessary expense incurred in providing storage for wild birds or wild animals seized, pending proceedings for condemnation, all which costs shall be taxed in the bill of costs and the amount allowed by the court in which final judgment shall be rendered to such officers, shall be paid by the state auditor out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated: Provided, that no fees herein provided to be paid to the officer making such seizure shall be paid to any officer, who at the time of such seizure is under pay as a deputy commissioner of birds. (See Chapter 1385.)

Sec. 25. Whoever shall enter upon the land of another for the purpose of either shooting, trapping, or fishing when the same shall be conspicuously posted by the owner or occupant with notices that shooting, trapping, or fishing is prohibited thereon, or whoever shall without right mutilate, destroy, or remove any such notice, shall be fined not exceeding twenty dollars.

Sections 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31 and 32 of this chapter are replaced by the provisions of Chapter 381.

Sec. 33. No person shall take, kill, destroy or pursue or in any manner molest any wild bird at any season of the year for a term of five years, beginning July 1, 1914, on Warwick Neck, in the town of Warwick, south of the tracks of the Rhode Island Suburban Railway Company from the easterly approach to the bridge at Warwick Cove, so-called, to Rocky Point station and thence in a line easterly from said station to Narragansett Bay. (See Chapter 1085.)

Sec. 34. Every person who shall violate the provisions of the foregoing section shall be punished by a fine of twenty-five dollars for each offence. (See Chapter 1085.)

Sec. 35. No person, firm, corporation or association dealing in poultry, meats, fish, groceries or other provisions or engaged in the cold storage business, or any other business which requires, or has an ice box or cold storage or freezing vault, of any description, for use in connection with his, their or its business, and no hotel, club, public house, restaurant, or victualers house shall have in his, their or its possession, at any time of year, at such place of business, or at any other place where any of his, their or its provisions, which are for use in his, their or its business, are kept, any bird or animal the sale of which is prohibited by this chapter. (See Chapter 1385.)

Sec. 36. Whoever violates the provisions of Section 35 of this chapter shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding twenty dollars for each bird or animal or part thereof found in his possession in respect to which the violation occurs; any commissioner or deputy who shall compromise or settle any violation of the bird and game law out of court, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding one hundred dollars. (See Chapter 1385.)

Public Laws of Rhode Island

CHAPTER 381

AN ACT TO REQUIRE AND PROVIDE FOR THE REGISTRATION OF HUNTERS.

(As amended.)

Section 1. No person shall hunt, pursue, take, or kill any wild bird or animal, in this state, without having first obtained a license as hereinafter provided: Provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed as affecting the right of a bona fide resident of this state or his immediate family to hunt, without such license, on land owned by him, or on land leased by him and on which he is actually domiciled, and which land is used exclusively for agricultural purposes, and not for club shooting purposes, nor as affecting in any way the provisions of the laws relating to trespass, nor as authorizing the pursuit, taking, wounding, or killing, or the possession of wild birds or animals contrary to any laws now in force or which may be hereafter enacted, nor shall the possession of such license grant or confer any privilege not enjoyed prior to the passage of this act.

Sec. 2. The clerk of every town or city shall upon the application of any person and the payment of the license fee and recording fee hereinafter provided, issue to such person a license to pursue, hunt, and kill game in the state of Rhode Island during the open season. Provided, however, that no license shall be granted to any person under fifteen years of age. Every such license shall be printed or stamped upon some durable and waterproof material and shall bear the name, age, occupation, place of residence, and an identifying description of the licensee, and shall expire on the thirty-first day of December next succeeding the date of issue, and shall be in the form prescribed by the secretary of state. (See Chapter 690.)

Sec. 3. Every bona fide resident of the state, who is a citizen of the United States, shall pay for such license a fee of one dollar and a recording fee of fifteen cents. Every non-resident of this state, who is a citizen of the United States, shall pay for such license a fee of ten dollars and a recording fee of fifteen cents. Every unnaturalized, foreign-born person shall pay for such license a fee of fifteen dollars and a recording fee of fifteen cents. Provided, that any non-resident, who is a citizen of the United States, and who owns real estate in Rhode Island assessed for taxation at a valuation of not less than five hundred dollars; and any non-resident, who is a citizen of the United States, and who is member of a club or association incorporated for the purpose of shooting or fishing, and incorporated prior to January 1st, 1909, which club or association owns real estate in Rhode Island assessed for taxation at a valuation of not less than one thousand dollars, may procure such license upon the payment of a license fee of one dollar and a recording fee of fifteen cents. Each non-resident hunting license shall enable the licensee to carry from the state not more than ten wild fowl or birds, the exportation of which is prohibited by law in any one calendar year; Provided, that the owner thereof shall carry them open to view for inspection.

Sec. 4. Every person who may desire such license shall file an application with the clerk of the town or city wherein he resides, if a resident; and with the clerk of any town or city in this state, if a non-resident, properly sworn to, stating the name, age, occupation, place of residence, nationality, weight, height, and color of hair and eyes of the applicant for whom such license is wanted, and pay the fees as provided in this act.

Sec. 5. Every person holding a license provided by this act shall have the same in his possession at all times while hunting in this state, and shall present the same for inspection to any person demanding the same; and any person refusing to so present said license for inspection upon demand shall be liable to the same punishment as if he were hunting without such license. A license shall not be valid before the licensee shall endorse his name in his own handwriting thereupon, and shall be good only for the person to whom it is issued, and any transfer or loan of such license shall work a forfeiture of the same.

Sec. 6. Every person who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty dollars nor more than fifty dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding thirty days, or both fine and imprisonment; and the license of any person convicted of violating any of the provisions of this act shall be forfeited, and no license shall be granted such person for a period of one year after such conviction; and the same penalties shall be imposed upon any person who shall be convicted of hunting, pursuing, or killing any wild bird or animal on a license which has been issued in the name of another person.

Sec. 7. Every town or city clerk shall keep a record of all such licenses issued by him, which record shall be open to inspection by all officers authorized to make arrests, and by the general treasurer and the state auditor, or their agents, and by the commissioners of birds and their deputies; and such clerk shall, on the first Monday in every month, pay to the general treasurer all moneys, except recording fees, received by him for such licenses issued during the month preceding, which moneys are hereby appropriated to the use of the commissioners of birds for the preservation and propagation of birds and game; and the state auditor is hereby directed to draw his orders on the general treasurer from time to time for the payment of so much of the moneys, held by the treasurer under and by virtue of this act, as may be necessary, upon receipt by him of properly authenticated vouchers. (See Chapter 529.)

Sec. 8. It shall be the duty of the commissioners of birds, and their deputies, appointed in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 112 of the General

Laws or any amendments thereof, to enforce the provisions of this chapter, and to prosecute every person who shall violate the same. They shall have power to arrest, without warrant, every person whom they shall find killing, pursuing, or taking any wild animal or bird contrary to the provisions of this chapter; Provided, that any person so arrested without warrant shall not be detained longer than twelve hours. Whenever complaint is made by said commissioners, or either of them, or by their deputies, of any violation of the provisions of this chapter, they shall not be required, either by themselves or by their deputies, to furnish surety for costs, or be liable for costs on such complaint. All fines recovered by virtue of this chapter shall enure one-half thereof to the use of the state and one-half thereof to the use of the complainant, and all prosecutions thereof shall be commenced within ninety days after the commission of the offense, and not afterwards.

Sec. 9. Any deputy bird commissioner who is employed by the commissioners, under pay, for a period exceeding two consecutive days at a time, shall not be entitled to any portion of fines imposed, in case of arrests and convictions, during such period of employment, either under this act or Chapters 112 and 113 of the General Laws and the several acts in addition and amendment thereto. In such event the entire amount of fines imposed shall enure to the state.

Sec. 10. This act shall take effect upon its passage, and Chapter 1456 of the Public Laws, passed April 23, 1907, and all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Public Laws of Rhode Island

AN ACT FOR THE PROTECTION OF FUR-BEARING ANIMALS.

Section 1. Any person who shall take, kill, destroy, pursue with intent to kill, or set, maintain or tend any trap or snare for the purpose of taking, killing or destroying any skunk, muskrat, raccoon or mink between the fifteenth day of April and the first day of November in any year, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding twenty dollars for each offence. (See Chapter 1399.)

Sec. 2. Nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent any person from taking or killing at any time of the year any skunk, muskrat, raccoon or mink upon his own land.

General Laws of Rhode Island

CHAPTER 137

OF FERRETS, WEASELS, HARES, GRAY SQUIRRELS AND DEER.

(As Amended)

Section 1. Every person who shall take, kill or destroy any undomesticated rabbit, hare, or gray squirrel between the thirty-first day of December and the first day of November, next following, shall be punished by a fine of twenty dollars for each and every rabbit, hare, or gray squirrel so taken, killed or destroyed, one-half of said fine to the use of the complainant and the other half to the use of the state. (See Chapter 698.)

Sec. 2. Every person who shall take, kill or destroy any rabbit or hare by the use of any ferret or weasel, shall be imprisoned in the county jail ten days for every such offence.

Sec. 3. Every person who shall have in his possession any ferret or weasel while hunting for or after any hare or rabbit, or who shall be associated in hunting for hares or rabbits with others who shall have in their possession or under their control any ferret or weasel, shall be fined not exceeding five dollars for every such offence.

Sec. 4. It shall be unlawful to pursue or shoot deer in this state except in accordance with the provisions of the following section.

Sec. 5. Any person owning or occupying any farm or orchard and any person in his employ may, while on his own premises or the premises of his employer, kill any deer which shall be found destroying any crops, vegetables, or fruit trees belonging to such person or his employer: Provided, however, that no such person shall shoot any deer unless he has obtained from the secretary of state a permit so to do; and the secretary of state shall, upon application, issue to any responsible land owner, or his employees, a permit authorizing such person to shoot deer in accordance with the provisions of this section. No person shall pursue or shoot any deer except with a shotgun, or employ any missile larger than buck shot.

Sec. 6. Any person violating the provisions of sections four and five shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars for each offence.

Sec. 7. It shall be the duty of the commissioners of birds and their deputies, appointed in accordance with the provisions of chapter one hundred thirty-six, to enforce the provisions of this chapter and to prosecute every person who shall violate the same. They shall have power to arrest, without warrant, every person whom they shall find pursuing with intent to kill, taking or killing, or having in his possession any undomesticated rabbit, hare, gray squirrel or deer contrary to the provisions of this chapter: Provided, that any person so arrested without warrant shall not be detained longer than twelve hours.

Sec. 8. Whenever complaint is made by said commissioners, or either of them, or by their deputies of any violation of the provisions of this chapter, they shall not be required either by themselves or by their deputies to furnish surety for costs, or be liable for costs on such complaint.

Sec. 9. Any commissioner or his deputy may seize without warrant any undomesticated rabbit, hare, gray squirrel, or deer found in the possession of any person at any time when the killing of the same is prohibited by law.

Sec. 10. Whoever shall construct, erect, set, repair, maintain or tend any wire snare for the purpose of catching or killing any animal shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars, or be imprisoned not less than sixty nor more than ninety days, or both. One-half of said fine, if such be imposed, shall enure to the complainant, and one-half to the state.

Sec. 11. Any person injured in person or property by the violation of the provisions of the preceding section may recover from the persons inflicting such injury twice the amount of such damage.

Public Laws of Rhode Island

AN ACT TO REGULATE THE USE OF TRAPS.

Section 1. Any person who shall set, place, maintain or tend a steel trap with a spread of more than six inches, or a steel trap with teeth jaws, or a "stop-thief" or choke trap with an opening of more than six inches, shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding one hundred dollars.

Sec. 2. Any person who shall set, maintain or tend a steel trap on enclosed land of another, without the consent in writing of the owner thereof, and any person who shall fail to visit at least once in twenty-four hours a trap set or maintained by him, shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding twenty dollars.

Sec. 3. Any person who shall set, place, maintain or tend any steel trap, stop thief or choke trap for the purpose of catching or killing any wild animal, unless the same shall be placed in a hole, brush pile, stone wall or other protected place, so situated as to be inaccessible to any domestic animal, shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding twenty dollars.

AN ACT RELATIVE TO PROPAGATION AND SALE OF WILD BIRDS AND GAME QUADRUPEDS.

Section 1. Upon written application to the commissioners of birds, a license may be granted in their discretion, without charge, to any person to engage in the rearing, within an enclosure, of any wild birds or game quadrupeds, and to dispose of the same alive for purposes of propagation, under such rules and regulations as may be made from time to time by the commissioners. Such artificially propagated wild birds or game quadrupeds, if alive, may be bought, sold and had in possession at any season of the year for purposes of propagation.

Sec. 2. Any and all licenses granted by said commissioners of birds may be revoked by said commissioners at any time.

NOTE. The Federal Game Laws as to migratory birds will be enforced by the Federal authorities in case of a conflict with the State Laws as to open seasons.
